The Global Oil and Gas Industry Association for Environmental and Social Issues (IPIECA)

IPIECA is the only global association involving both the upstream and downstream oil and gas industry on environmental and social issues. Its membership includes 36 companies and 16 associations, accounting for over half of world's oil production. IPIECA helps the industry improve its environmental and social performance by developing and promoting good practices and solutions; enhancing knowledge and understanding; and working in partnership with key stakeholders.
